Other Police Business;

- The two new officers have completed their training period and have been released to work alone in a patrol vehicle. The K-9 unit will now be working the split shift, 7:00 pm to 3:00 am.
- The new departmental firearms have been issued to all officers who are currently in the process of conducting a short familiarization training session with them.
- Officers have started their 2014 mandatory in-service training classes. The training is being completed on-line and normally takes one or two work days to complete.
- The SHACOG Chiefs of Police Advisory Board has formed a, Cooperative Investigative Team, to provide coordinated joint investigations of controlled substances, major crimes and other criminal activity. An operating procedures and guidelines manual has been completed and approved. The mission of the team is to provide a comprehensive and multi-jurisdictional effort to reduce criminal activity through the coordination of the law enforcement agencies within the SHACOG communities.
- I have been assigned to the training committee on the Chiefs of Police Advisory Board and will be working on the training scenarios to be conducted in 2014 for the officers in the SHACOG communities.
